

Safe space for Narcissists

Risto Holopainen 2019

Installation with prints, fictitious books, other objects and sound track.
Shown under the Winter Solstice Festival in Oslo, 21 December 2019.

Some of the digital prints of rasterised drawings covering the walls.

Some of the other items include a mirror with the text "Next time this could be you", a table with books, a rocking chair seated in front of a small white box with loudspeakers for the sound track, a false EXIT sign, several copies of a linoleum cut and a two colour dry-point hung on a string, and the Swedish-Colombian flag.

Don't forget to Share And Like This Video

Book covers, self help for narcissists.

